Work "1987" is a diptih, that consists of two parts. One the mother part and the second is the daughter part. To the competition I am giving in the mother part, work "mother 1987".

Painting is a strong but silent, wispering "language" and I do think that that is a beautiful and strong way of "talking" for the "listener" has to lean in to hear. And that's how you start a dialog.

This is my dialog with my father, who is emotionaly a stranger to me. These paintings are about the relationship with emptyness and silenc. The feeling of loniless no metter where you are.

My father was a gymnastics teacher, who liked to take photoes. Last year I found my fathers beautiful negatives, which show the year my parents started to part. When I was born my father bought a video camera, so I do not have many photoes of my childhood. In these pictures I was not jet born. So in my paintings there is my absence, absence of daughter, me and my sister in one person.
