

The main topic which I nominate in my painting is individual - existence in society, time and space. The individual is a being in a always present and constant motion of transformation that leads into the unknown. And in this transformation the internal and external conditions affect the very flow and functionality of the big mechanisms which in return change the consciousness of this individual. It affects the way people think and act. And this results into the person changing while keeping it's inner core, it's essence the same.
