

Perhaps at first sight it seems that I paint landscape. Actually I choose it as a symbol of inner purity. The main measure of selection of the storyline is search of Freedom and simplicity, in all numerous choices. Therefore often in works are solved growth, development and mental improvement issues. The ideas I find in everyday observations. In the beginning it is my inner question, but when I start to research - it starts to grow and show itself like a whole world. Then I see it in everyone - like a transparent layer, and observe- how this attitude affects his individual perception of the world. I'm inspired by people (as changing beings), like to watch and understand the various causes of views convictions, beliefs, attitudes.
Drawing parallels.
