

Several years ago i thought that ability to reproduce human in realistic way is the challenge what i can give to myself to feel improvement. I was learning and researching the best way how to accomplish this.

In the course of time i realized that the boundary between right and wrong is so thin that i confused. The more i got closer, the more got feeling that i move away.

Work 316 Nr. I is human hand close up symbolizing the process when you are too close you have to move away.

Size: 300x300cm, technique: canvas , "dark indigo blue" pastel.
