

Swimmers who were destined to meet but it never happened.

Movement is dominant in my paintings, it always have been important for me, it is an aid how to express myself.

The painting take a part of artwork serie "Accidental Movement". The serie of works is about my feelings, confusions, emotions. Every painting is a reflection of my state of body and mind.

In the artwork I speak about choosing the right direction and the role of the possibility if something could happen or not. Which one is a right way - to the left or to the right? It speaks about coincidence, about chance, about decisions.
